Released Under Bail When Case Is Called Friday

LULL IN THE CASE

Jerome Fails in His Mission to Quebec—Both Sides Rest Until Next Week.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 29.—"Gentleman Roger" Thompson, the New York chauffeur who whirled Harry K. Thaw away from Matteawan in an automobile, walked the streets of Sherbrooke today a free man. Police Magistrate Mulvena admitted him to $500 bail after he had appeared for trial charged with aiding Thaw, a lunatic and undesirable, to enter the Dominion.

F. Campbell, for the immigration department announced to the court that he wished to press first the charge of Thompson having entered Canada by stealth.

Thompson's counsel, Louis St. Laurent, acting with the Thaw counsel, objected to proceeding on this charge, and at their request the adjournment was granted.

M. Campbell opened the case for the prosecution, electing to try Thompson on the charge of entering the Dominion by stealth, side tracking the Thaw issue.

Adjournment was taken until Wednesday, September 3. Meantime Thompson was admitted to $500 bail. William Traverser, Jr., District Attorney of the county, Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy and others here trying to get Thaw back to Matteawan were in court. The little courtroom was packed.

With Thaw in jail for an indefinite period, probably till the session of the King's bench in October, and the Thompson case postponed, indications were today that there had set in a decided lull in matters pertaining to Stanford White's slayer.

Mr. Jerome's unproductive visit to Quebec, where he had hoped to see the premier and attorney general brought the case back to where it was when Thaw was first committed to the Sherbrooke jail. Messrs. Jerome and Kennedy were still here today, but what move, if any, New York would make next they would not say. Thompson's bail was supplied by the Thaw family. They have done all in their power to ease his position following his threat to sue and reveal who was behind the plot that resulted in Thaw's liberation.

EMPEROR WILL SAIL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] New York, Aug. 29.—It was reiterated today by the Hamburg American Line officials that the fire aboard the steamship Emperor yesterday had not rendered the vessel unseaworthy. She will sail Saturday. Although it was an ugly fire and particularly deplorable because of the death of Second Officer Carl Gobrecht, who was suffocated, no vital parts of the great vessel were injured.

Coal Prices Give Promise of Reaching Record Price by the Time Snow Flies Again

Coal may reach $5 and even $8 a ton before the winter is over. Such a price would be surprising to local dealers, a half dozen of whom reported Thursday that coal is going up—nobody knows how high or when it will stop.

The record of the past twenty years, for this season of the year, has already been shattered, and local dealers believe the increase will mount to $3.25 a ton by the middle of September.

Where only a few days ago coal dealers here were receiving $2.90 per ton for coal in 100-bushel lots, the price Thursday was quoted at $3, with another increase of ten or fifteen cents on the ton promised for the first of the month. This refers to the good grade coal.

Last winter dealers were compelled to pay $2.30 and $2.35 per ton for coal at the mines.

Mine operators' agents who call on Newark coal dealers give several alleged reasons for the steady upward trend of prices. First, they say lake trade has been heavier this season than for several years past, and that the West Virginia mine labor trouble has crippled the industry. This admission may be regarded by the striking miners.

As a result of labor and other difficulties many of the mines have not been running steadily, the demand for first grade coal is said to be heavier

LAUNDRY STRIKERS ARRESTED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Cincinnati, Aug. 29.—Five striking girl laundry workers were arraigned in Municipal court today on disorderly conduct charges resulting from a disturbance the police say, occurring at Livingston and John streets late Thursday.

PERUVIAN RIFLE SHOOTER KILLED AT CAMP PERRY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Camp Perry, Aug. 29.—The first fatal accident to happen on the Ohio ranges at Camp Perry occurred yesterday when Francisco Zegarra Ballon of the Peruvian team was killed by one of his fellow-countrymen, Juan E. Zegarra, who accidentally pulled the trigger of his loaded rifle. Ballon had gone to his tent to rest when Zegarra, who had just returned from the 600-yard range, knelt in the street near his tent and took aim with his rifle at the pole of Ballon's tent, just across the way. Believing his gun unloaded he pulled the trigger. The resulting discharge sent a bullet clear through the tent pole and Ballon's left side. Ballon succumbed immediately. Zegarra is frantic over the accident. Ballon was a native of Arequipa, Peru.

OHIO Y. M. C. A. SECRETARIES WILL MEET

Beginning Saturday the Y. M. C. A. secretaries of the state will hold a big get-together meeting at Summerland Beach. It will be a three days' session and some fine speakers and lecturers are engaged. A large number of secretaries from over the state are arriving on every boat at the beach and a large attendance is predicted.

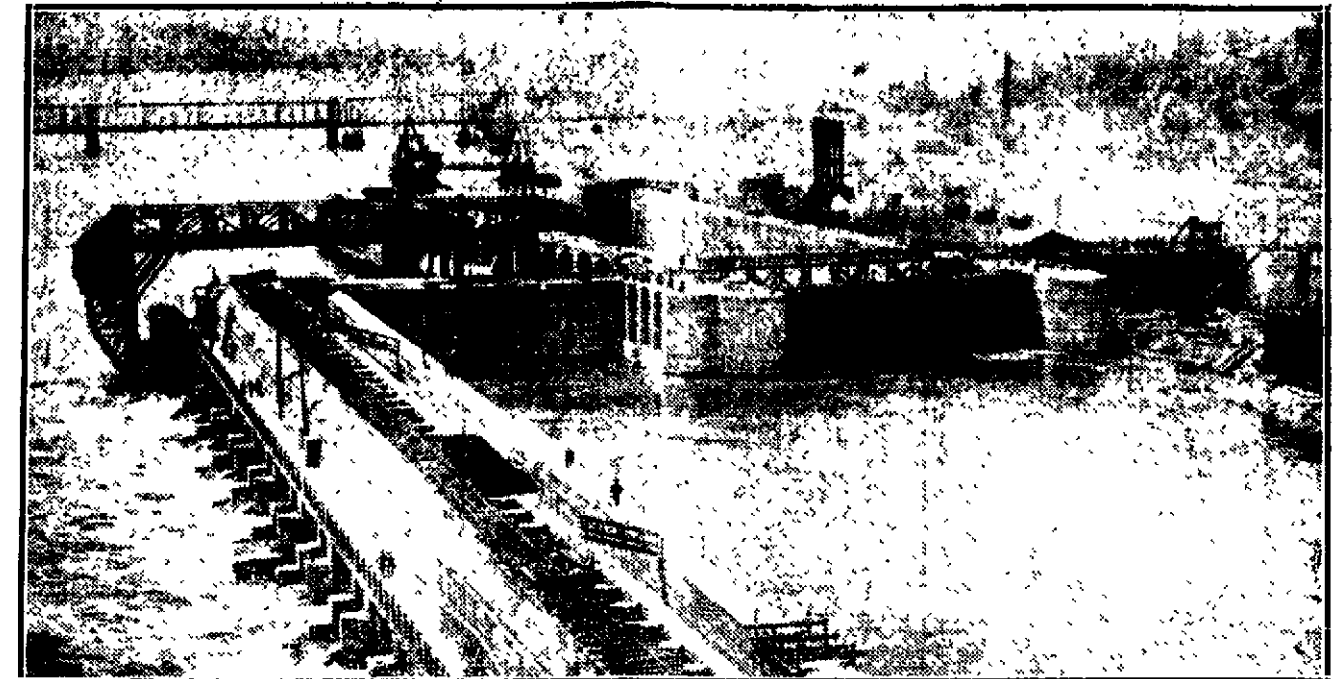

Robert E. Lewis, who is secretary of the Cleveland Association, and who is a man of world-wide reputation as a Christian worker, will be present and take part in the program. H. D. Dixon, secretary of the Dayton Association will also be present and aid in the three days' session. A. S. Bookwalter, formerly secretary of the Ohio State Association, will be one of the chief speakers.

A varied program of water sports, base ball and other athletic events has been arranged and the Y. M. C. A. men are promised a very enjoyable outing. Mr. Bruce Minear will lecture Saturday on "The Ohio State Y. M. C. A. Work," and his lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon views.

GIRL KIDNAPPED BUT IS RESCUED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Cleveland, Aug. 29.—Farmers near Novelty, O., are searching the woods today for a man who kidnapped Marie Mezer, seventeen, last night and attempted an attack upon her on a lonely country road. Miss Mezer recently advertised for a place of employment at housework. She received an answer giving a West Side address. Going to this address, she met a man who told her his place was in the country, but that he would drive her there. Nearing Novelty, the man attacked Miss Mezer. She resisted. Her screams attracted the attention of the family of Miss Mary Barnett, who lives some distance up the road. Help came and the man fled.

Locks in Mississippi River at Keokuk, Iowa, as Large as Those in the Panama Canal

This is a view of a portion of the works of the Mississippi River Power company, near Keokuk, Iowa. The greatest power dam in the world is being built there at a cost of $25,000,000. The dam and abutments is 4,619 feet long from Keokuk, Iowa, to Hamilton, Ill. The dam structure is 53 feet high, keyed in the bottom, and consists of 119 spans. The dam provides deep water navigation for 65 miles up the river. The powerhouse is the largest in the world, furnishing 200,000 horsepower, 60,000 horsepower of which goes to St. Louis over a line 137 miles long.

Three Unusual Stories On Mexican Situation Taken From Leased Wire

DIAZ ASKS FOR MORE INFORMATION

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] London, Aug. 29.—General Diaz, upon his arrival here, enroute to Japan, sent telegrams to friends in Mexico City asking for information as to the latest developments. He declines to make any comment whatever on the situation until he receives direct advice from his own country and his future movements also depend on the nature of the news which reaches him. General Diaz said to The Associated Press today that he had not yet decided whether to proceed on his mission to Japan or return to Mexico. Should his friends nominate him for the presidency at the October election he would, he said, return. His trip to Japan was interrupted he explained because he was advised in Canada that there was illness in the Japanese Emperor's family.

FREDERICK THREATENED BY FIRE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Mt. Vernon, O., Aug. 29.—Fire which broke out this afternoon threatens the entire business district of the village of Fredericktown. A call for fire fighting apparatus was received by Mt. Vernon authorities this afternoon. The message said that fire had already caused damage of $50,000 and was spreading.

The fire started at 1 o'clock in a room over the Lewis & Ward clothing store in Main street. Its origin is unknown. Fire Chief Dickard of Mt. Vernon, who went to the village with a part of the Mt. Vernon fire apparatus, announced at 2:30 that the fire was under control. Shortly after the fire started the water works system of the village gave out, and the old-fashioned hand pump was pressed into service.

The following business places were destroyed: Beck's racket store, Fox meat market, Miller's barber shop, the Cassell grocery, the Howard restaurant, Lewis & Ward clothing store, F. F. Hock sack drug store, the Harris meat market, Walters & Darling barber shop. The loss is estimated at $100,000, and it is believed that sufficient insurance was carried by the fire victims to cover the amount of the loss.

B. & O. MACHINISTS END CONFERENCE WITH OFFICIALS

[Special to the Advocate] Baltimore, Aug. 29.—The general committee of the Machinists Union representing the members of that organization employed in shops of the B. & O. southwestern lines who have been conferring here with officials of the company during the past several weeks, finished up their meeting today and returned to their respective headquarters, having reached a satisfactory agreement with the railroad. The machinists committee was headed by C. D. Summers, Grafton, W. Va., chairman. The other members being representatives of local lodges of the organization. The conference was held for the purpose of going over working conditions and making such adjustments as conditions justified.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, Aug. 29.—Announcement was made here today of the amicable adjustment, through the

COLQUETT'S FIERY SPEECH STARTLING

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 29.—"I will send every United States soldier into Mexico to protect American women if necessary," declared Governor Colquett of Texas in a speech at the Governors' banquet last night. "I know that I am treading on dangerous ground, but the United States should not stand idly by while Americans are being murdered and outraged in the rebellious republic." Governor Colquett sprang the sensation of the evening with his utterance on the Mexican situation, which were in marked contrast to the speech just delivered by Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, praising President Wilson and his cabinet for their work. The governors were the guest of Governor Ammons of Colorado at an all-Colorado banquet.

MOTORCYCLIST COLLIDES WITH WAGON; IS KILLED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Columbus, Aug. 29.—Riding swiftly eastward in the National Pike on a motorcycle last evening, Roy Kanode, aged 19, and Miss Augusta Polchorn, aged 20, crashed into the rear of a hay wagon. A pole that projected from the wagon pierced the chest of Kanode, killing him almost instantly. The girl escaped with a fracture of the right arm and painful cuts on her hips and nose. The accident occurred in front of a farmhouse three miles west of Alton, William Kinard, a farmer living southwest of Alton, who was driving the hay wagon, felt a shock when the motorcycle struck his vehicle which almost threw him from his seat. Following the shock of the collision Kinard heard groans and hastily climbed down from his seat. Young Kanode was lying when Kinard reached him and the girl almost was frantic with the shock. She was carried into the farmhouse and within a few minutes a passing automobile took her to Mt. Carmel Hospital.

An ambulance was called and took the body of the boy to Columbus. John Z. Kanode, father of the dead boy, called to see the body soon after it arrived. He said his son had gone to his room.

4,000,000,000 Postal Cards in Government Order

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, Aug. 29.—Four billion postal cards will be required by the postoffice department during the next four years and Postmaster General Burleson today asked for senior proposals for furnishing that number. The contract now is held by the government printing office, but previously was executed by a private printing concern. The postoffice department supplies the plates from which the cards are printed and it may change them at any time. Engravers now are working upon a portrait of Thomas Jefferson, which is to be substituted for that of William McKinley on the new issue.

AVIATOR'S BOMBS QUITE HARMLESS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Los Angeles, Aug. 29.—After his arrest here yesterday, for violation of neutrality laws when he smuggled Masson's aeroplane over the Mexican border several months ago, Captain Joaquin Alcala, a constitutionalist, explained why numerous bombs dropped from the machine in its flights over Guaymas failed to cause damage. The bombs, he said, were not loaded with death-dealing explosives, but with cordial invitations to the discontented federal soldiers under Pedro Ojeda to desert and come over to the rebels. "We did not want to slaughter those poor rebels," said Alcala, "so we wrote messages and enclosed them in bomb shaped receptacles. The messages told the federals that a warm welcome awaited them in our ranks. We got a large number of recruits in that way."

MR. ASHBROOK ON IMPORTANT COMMITTEE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, Aug. 29.—Public building advocates have won their fight in the house against pleaders for economy. It was agreed that sufficient funds would be carried by the appropriation bill of this session to provide for the continuation of the work on the buildings authorized by the last session of congress. Eighteen Ohio towns are interested in this appropriation.

The largest item is that of $100,000 for the new federal building at Akron. Another project is the Newark postoffice building for which an appropriation of $130,000 has been made. At a meeting of the public building and grounds committee, Representative W. A. Ashbrook was appointed chairman of the most important subcommittee. The public buildings in the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Michigan, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, North Dakota and South Dakota will be under the jurisdiction of Mr. Ashbrook's committee.

HEMORRHAGE TAKES PORMOCH CLOSE TO THE DOOR OF DEATH

A ruptured blood vessel resulting in violent hemorrhages nearly caused John Pormoch to bleed to death Thursday night. Pormoch, who works at the Wehrle foundry had been employed during the day at his work and Thursday evening was sitting on the porch at his boarding house in 381 Wehrle avenue, when the blood began to spurt from his mouth. Bazzler & Bradley's ambulance was called and the man was taken to the office of Dr. P. H. Cosner in West Main street. The hemorrhages continued for some time and it was feared the man would bleed to death. Finally, however, they yielded to treatment and the flow was stopped. He was taken to his home in the ambulance where, while in an exhausted condition, he is somewhat improved today. It is thought the hemorrhage was caused by a ruptured blood vessel in the lungs.

OHIO NATIVE DIES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Chicago, Aug. 29.—James J. Townsend, former president of the Chicago Stock Exchange and prominent in Democratic politics died today of apoplexy. He was stricken day of apoplexy. He was born at Lima, O., and was 51 years old.

ESCAPE BLOCKED BY CURIOS; TWO MEET DEATH IN FLAMES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] New York, Aug. 29.—Thousands of curios gathered in many lands and standing in the apartments of Hipolito D. Uriarte, for fifty years a Spanish consul, fed a fire kindled in lighting a cigar today and blocked the way of the aged diplomat and his wife to safety. Uriarte was found dead lying across a window sill; his wife, Marie Louise, mistook a window leading to an airshaft for one opening on a fire escape and plunged four stories to her death. Uriarte was 82 years old. The aged couple had been up until a late hour celebrating the homecoming of their son Louis, an accountant in Cuba.

DRAGS BODY OF MAN FROM SOUTH FORK

The body of a drowned man, unidentified, was recovered from the water below the Second street bridge Friday morning at 7:30. There were no marks which would indicate the cause of his death. He had probably been in the water for a week or more and the body was in an advanced stage of decomposition.

When the employees on the bridge came to work at 7:30 Friday morning, one of them, William Smith called the attention of the other men to the object in the water. This object had been noticed in the same position all week and Smith had maintained that it was a dead man but had been hooted at by other employees who refused to investigate.

Friday morning, however, Smith insisted that they investigate, and securing a pair of high boots waded into the water and pulled the body ashore. The man was dressed in a black suit. He was unusually short and weighed probably 135 lbs. In his pockets were a number of small pears, a large pocket knife and a box of matches and some tobacco.

Coroner Wylarch came to investigate and drove his machine in on the west side of the bridge, and near the spot where he left the auto he found a derby hat in the bushes. Around this spot the grass was tramped down. There was nothing in the hat band that helped in identification. Under the band was a strip of paper torn from an Advocate of Sept. 12, 1911.

The body will never be certainly identified and the cause of death will remain a mystery. The body was taken to McGonagle's morgue and prepared for burial. Interment was made in Cedar Hill Cemetery Friday.

Is Second Street Bridge Job Under a "Hoodoo?" Two Hurt Thursday; Other Accidents

Has a "hoodoo" followed the new Second street bridge job?

This is the question that is puzzling workmen on the contract of the Illinois Construction company, following incidents of the past few weeks, the most serious of which resulted in painful if not dangerous injuries to two workmen late Thursday. The breaking of a guy cable from its fastening at the top of the hoisting derrick, caused the heavy derrick to fall, pinning under its great weight Lawrence Ayers, 23, of McDonald, Pa., and Mike Corey, 319 Beach street, Newark.

Corey sustained a bad fracture of the right clavicle, or collar bone, a bump on the head and several minor cuts and bruises, and Ayers was badly hurt in the back and right side, besides a dangerous aggravation to an injury he received in the abdomen only four weeks ago in a cave-in at the bridge.

Thursday's accident occurred at 3:30. Ayers said he was sledging on a piling. Workmen were turning the derrick crank, which was under a heavy strain. Suddenly the other men shouted to him and Corey to lookout. Both glanced up and saw the derrick coming. They started to run, but failed to get away in time. Ayers believes if he had not run he would have escaped injury.

Both were pinned under the derrick, and Corey was unconscious. He declares he only remembers trying to get out of the way of the derrick. Two Ambulances were summoned from Bazzler & Bradley's barns. The motor ambulance arrived first and was quickly followed by the horse-

PRESIDENT LEAVES ON VACATION

Mexican Situation Permits His Absence From the White House

NO WORD FROM LIND

No Movement of Troops Along Mexican Border—Huerta's Enemies Like President Wilson's Message.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, Aug. 29.—Administration officials were puzzled today by news dispatches saying that John Lind had reconsidered his plans to go to Mexico City and would remain in Vera Cruz several days. While it has been left entirely to Mr. Lind's discretion to determine his own movements, the understanding has been from official messages received yesterday that he would take an early train today for Mexico City to resume negotiations with the Huerta government.

Early today no word had been received from Mr. Lind indicating any change in plan. Secretary Bryan and President Wilson had an early conference and awaited further dispatches. The president hoped to leave for Cornish, N. H., late today unless developments required his presence in Washington.

Later all arrangements were made for the President and Mrs. Wilson to leave here at 5:35 p. m. for Cornish, and it was said at the White House that only grave developments could upset the plans.

NO TROOP MOVEMENTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, Aug. 29.—There was no indication today of additional troop movements. Brig. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, commanding the Southern Department, which includes most of the troops along the Mexican border, has full authority to move the different organizations under his command without instructions from Washington. He also is authorized to call upon other departments for additional troops, if, in his discretion, the situation warrants such action.

WILSON'S MESSAGE PLEASES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Eagle Pass, Texas, Aug. 29.—General satisfaction with President Wilson's Mexican message was expressed today in a statement by General Carranza, acting head of the constitutionalists at their provisional capital, Pedras Negras. He spoke in the absence of his brother, General Carranza who is fighting in Torreón.

Yacht Races at Buffalo Ferry Centennial Celebration.

NOT the least feature in the many events to distinguish Perry centennial week, to be held at Buffalo from Sept. 2 to 6, will be the yacht races, in which some of the country's fastest white winged craft will contest. It is an ideal center for which the races will be sailed and one from which the trials may be viewed by thousands of spectators.

AKRON DEFEATS CHARTER.

Akron, Aug. 29.—The proposed charter for the city of Akron was defeated here yesterday by a majority of 91. The vote throughout the city was light. Fewer than 40 per cent of the electors voted.
The Democratic and socialist organizations openly fought the charter.
The heaviest vote for its adoption was in the fashionable resident districts, while the working men of the city voted solidly against it.

PROGRAM FOR ANNIVERSARY OF M. E. CHURCH

Ten years ago the East Main Street
M. E. church was dedicated and next week its members will give a four days' session in commemoration of the event. The session opens on Wednesday, September 3, and will continue until Sunday, there being no program on Saturday. Rev. W. H. Miller, pastor of the Gift Street church,
Columbus, will deliver the opening sermon of the session Wednesday evening at 7:30. Dr. Miller is a fine speaker and an impressive pulpit orator.

The committee which has arranged the anniversary has left nothing undone which would aid in an impressive service. The choir will render some special music at each of the services.
The pastor, Rev. Charles Laughlin will be aided in the meetings by a corps of able ministers. Everybody is extended a cordial invitation to attend this tenth anniversary.

SICK CAMPS NOW THINGS OF PAST, SAY U. S. MEDICS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Aug. 29.—The high degree of health maintained at the army maneuver camps at Texas City and Galveston, Texas, where twelve housand men have been under tents for the past six months, has convinced army medical officers that there will be no repetition of the sick camps which marked Spanish war days.

It was pointed out at the surgeon general's office today that in the six months since the mobilization of the troops, there has been no case of typhoid fever among the men, all of whom traveled from one to three days on trains to reach the camp. There has been no case of smallpox and but few cases of measles and mumps.

Sam Patterson, 65 years old, was sent to the whipping-post in Wilmington, Del., the other day for wife beating.

Cremation shows a marked increase in Europe. Last year there were 7,533 cremations in Germany, as against 5,500 in 1910.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS.

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service of the City of Newark, Ohio, at his office, No. 22
West Church Street, in this city, until Friday, September 6, 1913, for furnishing the necessary labor and materials for constructing each of the following named improvements, viz:

Washington Street Drainage Sewer:
From the corner of 5th Street
according to plans and specifications on file in said office.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same, and be accompanied by a certified check on some solvent bank of the City of Newark, Ohio, payable to the Director of Public Service, for an amount equal to ten per cent of the bid, as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected, such check will be forthwith returned to the bidder and should any bid be accepted such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

Bidders are required to use the first of forms which will be furnished on application.

Bids on bid payment are required to be delivered to the City Engineer samples of the brick or block bid prior to the filing of bid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

LABOR'S LEGIONS

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

Copyright, 1913, by American Press Association

I.
IN the glory of the morning
That is breaking round the world,
With its golden light adorning
A new flag of hope unfurled
By the hosts of brotherhood
That enlist in every nation,
Battling for the common good
And for all men's elevation,
There is heard a mighty chorus
And ten million voices call:
"Brothers, clear the way before us!
All for each, and each for all!"

II.
'TIS the army of endeavor,
With their faces to the dawn,
One today and one forever,
Labor's legions, marching on!
And their feet are keeping time
To the music of production,
To the harmony sublime
Of creation and construction,
Hammers beating, spindles humming,
Engines pulsing day and night,
Throb in time with Labor's coming
Million-handed for the right.

III.
Oh, the new age they have brought us!
Have you thought of it, my brother?
And the new creed they have taught us,
Based on love of one another!
In the twinkling of an eye
Comes a mighty transformation,
All the old age has gone by.
This is God's new dispensation:
That the men who fill the measures
Of earth's wealth shall now employ them,
That the men who make the treasures
Shall control them and enjoy them.

IV.
LIKE an army brave with banners,
They are coming up the way.
Let us greet them with hosannas,
Heralds of a better day.
Have we seen and understood
What the thing is they are bringing—
Visions of the great and good
Since the morning stars were singing?
'Tis a harvest of God's gleaming
Growing since earth's primal plan,
And its new and mighty meaning
Is the brotherhood of man—

V.
BROTHERHOOD as wide as earth is—
Love of God and love of neighbor!
And the cause of this new birth is
The united ranks of Labor.
Yet a higher hope they hold
And a brighter, gladder promise
That the slaughters known of old
And the strifes are passing from us.
Long sought and long overdue time,
Comes the age when war shall cease!
For these soldiers of the new time
Are the messengers of peace.

VI.
IN the old and blood stained ages,
When Greed ruled with iron law,
When the toiler had for wages
But his crust and bed of straw,
How he must have longed to know
What to us is freely given!
One faint glimpse of this new glow
Would have seemed to him like heaven.
Now those in the shadows standing
Are uniting and as one
Are from out their gloom demanding
Air and room beneath the sun.

VII.
MEN of toil, march on forever
In the path to better days.
Bless the world by your endeavor
All the lowly to upraise.
Bear your standard in the van!
Make it honored, loved, respected,

Until every workingman
Neath its folds shall feel protected.
To false counsel bid defiance.
Not on violence, but right,
Place your firm and sure reliance
And thus win your bloodless fight.

Will Wonders Never Cease?

IMPOSSIBILITIES of yesterday are FACTS of today. When tallow was exchanged for electricity, pessimists had to go way back and sit down. A progressive age is here—WHOLESALE TAILORING is now done in the most artistic manner—truly speaking—more skilled tailors—more experienced tailors are employed by the manufacturers of note, than by the local custom tailor. The responsibility is too great—the loss of poor cutting, poor workmanship—too heavy—when thousands and thousands of dollars worth of materials are placed before these MASTER TAILORS—to be converted into perfect models and sizes.

They Must Be Master Tailors And They Are

Enthusiasm is in fashion—and CORNELL is in style. Why not? How can we help but be enthusiastic when we KNOW that CORNELL wholesale tailoring organization is the greatest in America. WE WISH THAT YOU COULD VISIT the Sanitary Workshops—and see for yourself how carefully every detail is watched—WE WISH YOU COULD KNOW the details of our organization—THEN—and THEN ONLY—we would expect you to be as we are—

Brimful and Running Over With Enthusiasm---Not a Dream

CORNELL success is NOT A DREAM—it is a matter of Commercial History. Its VALUES are TOWN TALK and its future CANNOT FAIL but radiate brilliantly throughout this vicinity. QUALITY at CORNELL is a BIG—REAL—ever present force—it is INCORPORATED in every detail of its business.

Cornell's Distribution Of Satisfaction

is so marked—that its ever growing patronage is A SURE THING. This coming season—CORNELL shows still BETTER values—will give still BETTER service—because the facilities of its organization have been increased to such an extent that you may expect GREAT THINGS. The man who buys a CORNELL suit one time at $10 or $15

will at all times buy the Cornell kind.

TO THE PUBLIC

Many people have conceived the idea that Business Colleges only give instruction along three lines, namely, Book-keeping, Shorthand and Typewriting and this statement has been made by would-be educators, but it is not true of the Bliss College of Newark, for we carry in our full College Course eighteen branches.

Of course, we admit that we specialize on these three branches. Book-keeping, Shorthand and Typewriting. We would not be a Business School unless we did. We teach four of the best shorthand systems known. First, we specialize on our wonderful Spencerian, the easiest system in the world to master. Just think of it! A complete system of Shorthand, the principles of which can be mastered in 15 days, a system that is used by some of the best court reporters in the United States and by thousands of Stenographers. The complete manual has but 10 lessons, 10 rules, 64 word signs and 21 pages of actual study matter.

Second, we teach Gregg Shorthand and we claim that by our method of instruction this system can be mastered in much less time than in any other school. Third, we teach the Pitman system of Shorthand. Of course, this system requires more time and study than the other systems heretofore mentioned. Fourth, we teach Stenotypy, a system of Shorthand that is written by machinery. The machine used in writing this system of Shorthand is called the Stenotype and is the fastest writing machine in the world. To make a long story short, the Stenotype is to Shorthand exactly what the Typewriter is to long hand. If you haven't seen this machine, it would pay you to call at the office at 13 1-2 South Third street and see it demonstrated. And as to our Book-keeping system. We teach the actual business from the start. The Bliss System of Bookkeeping published by the Bliss Publishing Co., a system of Book-keeping that is recognized throughout the United States as being the leading system. And again we give thorough instruction in the celebrated banking course by Prof. Worstell. He also teaches this branch and has the actual experience in both banking and wholesale work and of course, it stands to reason that the instructor who has had the actual experience along this line is thoroughly competent to give instruction.

In our Typewriting department we teach the scientific touch Typewriting, a system that is recognized the world over as the best. In our English department we have two courses. One, our celebrated English Course and the other the Gregg English course, which is published by the Gregg Publishing Co., the same as is used in many Commercial High schools.

We specialize in Penmanship, for we believe that to be a success in the Business World, it is necessary to be a good penman. We also specialize in Commercial Arithmetic, Regulations, Spelling, clearing-house practice, Commercial English, Banking, Bank Exchange, Railroad work and Civil Service. In fact, all Commercial branches are taught. "If you have any doubt as to our claims, a visit to the school would dispel it all."

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

The Laureate.

Uncle Walt

Unless Great Britain takes a brace no first class bard will seek the place of laureate, I'm thinking; he gets some sixty pun a year and draws a cask of ale or beer, if he's inclined to drinking. The times are hard, and poets need good groceries on which to feed, and clothes and shoes and bonnets, unless they're nourished well they can't in noble frenzy rage and rant, and turn out odes and sonnets. And so the Kiplings do not run for jobs that pay but sixty pun and cask of ale or porter, the crossroads poets make the race, and he who gains the measly place must cut his diet shorter. Great Britain ought to give the bard stove-wood enough to fill his yard, a cow and bunch of chickens, an order on a store in town—instead of which she screws him down, and treats him like the dickens. No wonder that anointed poets all troubled seem with husky throats when singing to his kinglets; starvation wages bring despair, and in their hearts put carking care, and gray hairs in their ringlets.

MOTORDROME TO ENTERTAIN LABOR DAY'S CROWDS

One of the feature attractions to be seen in Newark on Labor Day will be a portable motordrome, which is being erected by Passman and Green of this city.

The motordrome, which will be exhibited for the first time in this city on Labor Day will be placed on the square, it being erected at the Newark Lumber company. There will be no racing in the motordrome on Monday but exhibitions of fancy riding will be given on the track. The motordrome will be placed in position on Saturday.

SCAFFOLD FALLS; WORKMAN HURT

John Adams, a brick mason, working on the Indiana street schoolhouse, was seriously injured Friday morning when the scaffolding fell a story and a half to the ground. He was badly cut about the head and his back wrenched.

Adams was working on a scaffolding about fifteen feet from the ground. A stone fell from above and struck the platform on which he was standing, throwing it over and Adams was pushed outward from the building as the structure toppled over. He fell among the debris and loose lumber and stones on the ground below, sustaining serious injuries. Bazler & Bradley's ambulance took him to the hospital where Dr. Essington dressed his wounds. Adams lives at 195 North Eleventh street.

Thirty Years Eczema.

Cured by Our Reliable Skin Remedy, Saxo Salve.

Mr. Joseph R. Williams of Alliance, Ohio, says: "I recommended Saxo Salve in a case of Eczema of thirty years standing, and after its use not a trace of the disease was left. It also cured a bad case of Eczema of the scalp, where the man had scratched so much it had become calloused and cracked open. It is all healed up now. I also find that one application does away with Ringworm. I keep a tube on my work-stand, and use it for all skin troubles I come across. I have had a good deal to do with skin troubles for the past forty years, but Saxo Salve beats anything I ever saw."

Saxo Salve is wonderfully healing in all kinds of skin diseases. We cheerfully give back your money if it fails to benefit. Frank C. Hall, Druggist, Newark, O.

SCHOOL OPENING

The attention of all concerned, including officials, teachers, pupils and parents of pupils, of public, parochial and private schools, is called to the following existing orders. All will be expected to obey same.

ORDERS OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

For Protection of Children and Others from Contagious Diseases.

It is hereby ordered by the Board of Health of the City of Newark, State of Ohio, that:

Section 1. That no child of a family or household in which there is any sickness, except of a known chronic nature (accidents are not to be considered as sickness) shall attend or be sent, or be permitted to go or be admitted to the schools within the City of Newark, Ohio, without a certificate by a physician to the effect that the family is free of contagious disease or a Health Department pass. Tonsillitis and sore throat, so far as schools are concerned, are to be considered as contagious diseases, and excluded as such except as herein provided for.

Section 2. That each school teacher shall, at the beginning of each daily session make inquiry of each of her pupils and ascertain if each is eligible to attend school in accordance with Section 1 of this order.

Section 3. That children in families having mumps, typhoid fever, tuberculosis, or whooping cough may be admitted to schools while in good health upon certification by a physician that child desiring to attend school is free from any contagious disease.

Section 4. Penalty for violation: that whoever violates any provision of this order or regulation of the Board of Health made in pursuance thereof, or obstructs or interferes with the execution of such order, or wilfully or illegally omits to obey such order, shall be fined not to exceed one hundred dollars.

JUMPS TO DEATH WITH SAFETY NEAR

New York, Aug. 29.—A man and his wife lost their lives in a fire that burned out their apartment on the fourth floor of a five story apartment house at 483 Central Park West early today. As the firemen drew up in front of the building they saw a woman clad in her night gown at one of the fourth floor windows ready to jump. Men were climbing up the fire escape to reach her, shouting as they went in warning not to jump, but before they gained the fourth floor she plunged either intentionally or accidentally and was instantly killed on the pavement below.

Later the body of the woman's husband was found in bed in one of the gutted rooms. He had been suffocated and burned.

Nowhere Else Do Women Dress as Foolishly as In America :: ::

By J. WILBUR CHAPMAN, American Evangelist

THE CLOTHES THAT I HAVE SEEN AMERICAN WOMEN WEAR ARE AWFUL, AWFUL! I HAVE NEVER SEEN ANYTHING LIKE THEM ANYWHERE ELSE; NOT EVEN IN PARIS ARE THEY AS IN THIS COUNTRY.

I refer especially to the slit skirt and to all the skirts and dresses so tightly draped around the figure that every curve and line is thrust upon the eye of the beholder.

I can only compare the appearance of certain women who are visible on the streets of our big cities with that of some poor Chinese women whom I saw in their own country. With their bound, deformed feet they hobbled pitifully along, at once a ridiculous and a deplorable spectacle, and I have noticed an almost identical gait in the American woman who swatches the lower part of her body in draperies that IMPEDE EVERY MOVEMENT.

Of course I do not for a moment imply that all our women are so absurd. In fact, I know that the best women in America dress modestly and appropriately. I believe that they are in the MAJORITY. But the hurt and shame of the women who do dress sensationally remain, and I think that the teachers and leaders of the people should protest.

A WOMAN SHOULD WEAR CLOTHES THAT SUIT HER INDIVIDUALITY WITHOUT SUBMERGING IT.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — Dannie Had One Reason For Being Glad.

Dannie Does Not Like to Be Washed.

SOMETIMES Jack grumbled when getting his face washed. It did seem that, no matter how he scrubbed, he could not get his neck or ears clean enough to please his mother. Evelyn seemed to have no trouble, and she would often tell Jack he ought to look into the glass to make sure before going downstairs in the morning.

Both the children came in to daddy with shining faces and lovely clean hands.

"Been having a good night bath?" daddy inquired.

"Mother scrubs a fellow's ears so," grumbled Jack.

"A lot of dirt does seem to get into little boys' ears," daddy sympathized.

"I hope, though, you do not make as much fuss about it as Dannie did."

"Dannie is just five years old. His daddy is a doctor, and so when Dannie gets hurt his father mends him, and when he is sick he has to take his daddy's medicine."

"Now, getting his ears washed has always been one of Dannie's greatest trials. Nora, the maid who takes care of the children, is always in a hurry."

"When Nora comes to Dannie's face she always looks into his ears very hard and, taking the cloth, pokes and scrubs until sometimes the little boy is afraid they will come off."

"And, of course, he squirms and squeals and sometimes cries outright. Then Nora scolds and shakes him and says it is more trouble to wash his face than to bathe all the six others."

"One day the children were out in the garden playing. I believe the game they were having was tag, a game which you know is quite lively. They darted about here and there, trying to get away from Ned, who was 'it'."

"Dannie was just in front of Ned, and his foot tripped over a stone. Down he went, and his head struck the edge of the walk. A stone cut his forehead, and when the children ran to help him up the blood was pouring from his forehead."

"Much frightened, they led the bleeding Dannie into the house. Luckily the doctor, his father, was at home and when he heard the little boy's screams came hurrying out. Picking Dannie up in his arms, he carried him into his office and wiped away the blood."

"It hurt a good deal, but Dannie only sobbed while his father took a needle and thread and stitched up the cut. After that the doctor wrapped some white gauze around and around the hurt forehead."

"Everybody noticed that Dannie stopped crying."

"Put lots on, daddy," he spoke up. "Put lots and lots on so my ears will all be covered up. Nora can't wash them now."

The HOME Building Association Co. NEWARK, OHIO.

ONE OF THE ECONOMIES

is the saving of the cost of moving. The renter can hardly afford to bind himself with too long a lease and with no lease or with one running a year or two, he is constantly in danger of being forced to move by reason of the property being sold or desired by the landlord, or the rent may be raised beyond what he can afford.

It costs greatly to move, not alone in the actual cost of moving but in the breakage of furniture, the making over of carpets and the forced purchase of new furnishings.

Why not avoid all these troubles by having a home of your own.

This Association is helping hundreds of families in Newark to become home owners and only awaits your co-operation to extend this same help to you.

Society

Mrs. Jane Hirst and daughter Lillian very pleasantly entertained the members of the Good Will society and the following guests Thursday afternoon: Mesdames Allen Swisher, T. B. Hirst, William Mothershead, Carl Mothershead and little daughter, Misses Adele Evans and Marie Hirst. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Barbara Taylor, 67 Tenth street, September the eighteenth.

DRESBACH-WESTBROOK.

At five o'clock Thursday evening Dr. L. C. Sparks united in matrimony Mr. Wilson W. Dresbach of Columbus and Miss Altha Merrill Westbrook, a long east of this city. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koonitz, Mrs. Koonitz being a sister of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Dresbach are well known young people whose friends will hasten to extend congratulations. They will make their home in Columbus.

ANDERSON-LAMB.

On Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, Dr. L. C. Sparks solemnized the marriage of Mr. Leroy Anderson and Miss Helen Marie Lamb. The ceremony was read at the parsonage of the First M. E. church and immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left for a short wedding trip. On their return they will make their home in Newark.

The following young people picked at Fairlawn park, Thursday afternoon for the pleasure of Miss Dorothy Kuster of Newark: Misses Mary Agnew, Ella Gosser, Mary Clendenning, Bessie Backert, Mary Louise Winters, Della Hay, Ruth Lamberson, Jane Glenn, Margaret Glenn, Kathryn Kuntz, Mildred Kirk, Doris Crowthers and Mary Elder—Coshocton Ave.

Dr. Daniel Sparks Baughman and Miss Mary Uretta Foster were married Wednesday noon at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harvey Disbennett, near Johnstown, by Rev. J. H. Julian of the Baptist church at Sunbury. Dr. Baughman is on the medical staff of the United States Marine Hospital at Chicago. The bride had been in the government's service at Washington four years. They met and became engaged while both were students at Valparaiso University seven years ago. Mrs. Baughman is a daughter of Albert Foster of Alexandria. They will be at home the first of next week at 4141 Clarendon avenue, Chicago.

The reunion of the Garlinger family was held last Thursday at Buckeye Lake park. There were in attendance about one hundred and twenty-five descendants of the first Garlinger family which came to Ohio from old Virginia in 1818. The day was spent in the renewal of old ties among the "kinsfolk", a general handshaking and partaking of a most bountiful dinner. New officers chosen for the ensuing year were Daniel Darst of Zanesville, president; James Garlinger of New Lexington, vice president; Harvey Irvin of Thornville, secretary; and Mrs. Flora Grive, Thornville, treasurer. Among the relatives present were included many from Newark, Columbus, Zanesville, Thornville, New Lexington, Charleston, W. Va., and other places.

The next annual reunion will be held in Zanesville at Moxahala Park, in August, 1916.

Miss Joanna Brown delightfully entertained a number of her friends at her home in Columbia street Thursday evening, in honor of her house guest, Miss Eva Bradford of Parkersburg, W. Va. The house was filled with instrumental and vocal music, and games, and dainty refreshments were served.

All members and former members of the choir of the Fifth Street Baptist church are invited to rehearsal at the home of Mrs. Arthur Taylor on Twenty-first street, Friday evening. A social hour will follow the rehearsal. Members are requested to leave the interurban station on the 7 o'clock car.

A very pretty garden party was given on Thursday afternoon by Miss Helen Vogelmeier at her home in Hudson avenue. The hours, from two to five, were given over to games, and in a geography contest the souvenir was awarded to Virginia Miller. Luncheon was served in the dining room and the table was attractively arranged with the colors of pink and white. The centerpiece was a basket of pink and white asters, while the favors were fancy paper caps.

The guests were: Adella Baker, Nellie Morse, Thelma Mazy, Margaret Linehan, Amy Collins, Martha Grace Miller, Virginia Miller, Helen Fuller, Mary Elizabeth Fuller, Eleanor Johnson, Charlotte Knauss, Florence Shiroos, Mary Schimpf, Mary Vogelmeier, Katherine Sachs, Sarah Louise Horn, Elizabeth Spencer, Mary Miller, Elizabeth Hamilton of Wheeling, Dorothy Vogelmeier of Canton, Therese McDonald of Columbus, Hilda Brough of Cleveland, and Florence Mann of London, O.

POLICE LOCATE DIAMOND; MAN HELD FOR THEFT

James Huffman (colored) was arrested in Columbus Friday for the theft of a diamond stud. Huffman broke into the Sherwood Hotel on Thursday and stole a stud belonging to Napoleon Love.

The matter was reported to the police department and the investigation resulted in the arrest of Huffman Friday in Columbus where he is being held for the local police. The stud has been located and will be returned to its owner.

BRITISHER BREAKS PRECEDENTS WHEN HE LEAVES LONDON

(Associated Press Telegrams) New York, Aug. 29.—The steamship Lusitania bearing Viscount Haldane, the first lord high chancellor of Great Britain to leave his country for 400 years, entered New York harbor this morning. A reception committee consisting of representatives of the United States government and of the American Bar association waited at the pier to welcome the distinguished visitor.

Obituary

CHARLES HUFFMAN.

Charles Huffman, son of Jacob and Rachel Cox Huffman, was born December 25, 1829, departing this life August 7, 1914, aged 85 years, 7 months and 13 days. Mr. Huffman was born in Tuscarawas county, Ohio. From his birthplace he came to Harkersville, Coshocton county, Ohio, and from there he moved to Licking county and from there to Muskingum county. He was united in marriage to Margaret Gorsline in 1850. To this union five children were born, four sons and one daughter, one son and the daughter predeceasing him to the better world. The mother of these children died May 5, 1888. He was married again to Miss Lydia Miller, Dec. 24, 1889. No children born to this union. Mr. Huffman was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal church about sixty years ago, a faithful and consistent Christian, one of the staunch members and one of the most active and strong supporters of the church. He donated the lot on which the Fairview church was built and not only donated the lot but was a liberal giver to the building of the same. About ten years ago he moved to Newark, O., and transferred his membership to the First M. E. church, Newark. He leaves to mourn their loss a wife, three sons, eleven grandchildren, eight great grandchildren, two brothers and two sisters and many relatives and friends.

MR. ROLEY'S FUNERAL.

Funeral services over the remains of W. Stewart Roley, Newark railroad man, who met death in Cambridge Thursday, will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Green of the Woodside Presbyterian church, in the Roley home, 50 North Williams street, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Interment will be in Cedar Hill cemetery. The body of Mr. Roley arrived in Newark Thursday night.

CARD OF THANKS.

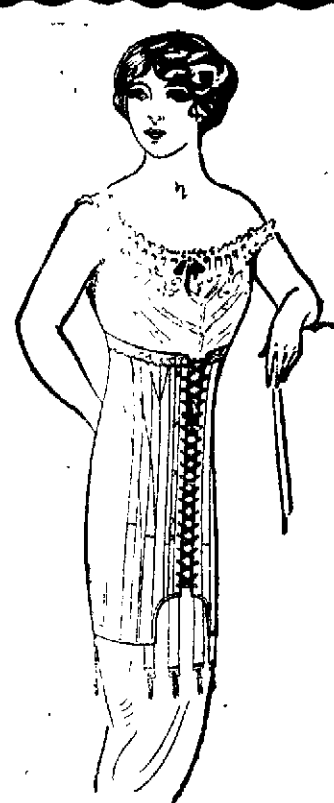

We desire to extend our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of my husband and father, Charles Huffman. We also thank the donors of the beautiful floral offerings and Rev. J. I. Tyler for his consoling words.

THE WIFE AND CHILDREN.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks for the kindness shown by the neighbors and friends during the illness and death of our beloved husband and son. Also for the beautiful floral offerings, especially the one from the Barbers' Union. Wife and mother, Mrs. Clara Hayes.

Cold Storage Love

AURORA'S eyes were slightly red. "What's the matter?" inquired Minerva. "Got star dust in your peepers? Better see Asclepius, or you may have granulated lids." "No," sniffed Aurora. "Cephalus and I had a quarrel last night, and I thought he'd phone or wire something this morning, and he hasn't said a word yet."

The young folks had a habit of telling Minerva their troubles, for she had such a wise way of looking over her specs and dropping her knitting for a moment, that they knew she could help them, and felt comforted at once. Aurora now glanced at her anxiously to hear what she would say.

Minerva looked grave. "Hm," she said at last. "That's bad." Aurora turned pale.

"Are you sure your phone is in order?" inquired Minerva. "But even if it wasn't, he could wire."

"It's all right, I know," replied Aurora. "I—I—called him up myself, when I didn't hear. I just couldn't wait. But he'd left."

"That wasn't wise," counseled Minerva. "Still I guess it doesn't matter."

Aurora began to sob. "You sound as if some aw-aw-ful calamity had happened."

"I am afraid it has," observed Minerva. "I think you might as well pass Cephalus up. If all this time has elapsed since you quarreled and he hasn't offered to make up, I am afraid his love is on the way to cold storage."

"Oh," moaned Aurora.

"I'm sorry. But if it's that sort, the sooner you find it out and cut loose, the better. A slight operation is not so painful as a more serious one."

"But perhaps if I let him know how sorry I am," urged Aurora.

"Whose fault was it?" asked Minerva, sternly.

"It really was his. He broke a date, because he said he had to work, and then I saw him out with Lolus."

Minerva shrugged her shoulders and took up her knitting. "It's all over," she said. "You might as well order the flowers and hold funeral services. And my dear girl, do have some pride. Don't make overtures. If you do, you'll only receive more and more slights. When a man shows symptoms like that, he is fast recovering from whatever case he had."

"I think I'll call him up once more," pleaded Aurora. "There may be some misunderstanding."

"There undoubtedly is," declared Minerva, emphatically. "And he's going to see to it that it doesn't get cleared up. You'll only run up extra telephone tolls. But I suppose there is no use in talking. You are not the only girl who hangs on until she gets the wedding announcements, and some don't give up hope even then."

First Authentic Showing of Fall Suits and Coats

Embracing Everything That is New and Stylish

Tomorrow we present for the first time this season a comprehensive display of the authentic styles in women's, misses' and juniors' coats and suits for the coming Fall and Winter wear. These garments have been selected with the utmost care from a multitude of the leading manufacturers. This store has long been looked upon as the standard place for women's apparel and all other garments are judged by our prices and qualities. This season we made it our special aim to secure the best values in the market to sell at popular and medium prices. That we have succeeded is already shown by the vast amount of garments that have been sold. Description of what we are showing is utterly impossible, as hundreds of different styles are here awaiting your inspection. If you want a standardized garment, one you know is worth even more than you pay for it, come here and select from Newark's largest and most popular showing.

SELECT YOUR SUIT FROM ONE OF THESE

AT $12.50

A choice range of styles to choose from, tailored from manish serge in browns blues and black. Some are strictly tailored others made up in the Russian blouse effect. Lined throughout with guaranteed satin, far below value at $12.50

AT $15.00

This is the price we specialize at and this season we have gathered together greater values than ever before. Models tailored from serge, diagonals and heavy welts in a galaxy of charming styles. Our greatest values are these at $15.00

AT $17.50

We are showing a particular suit at this price that has no close rival. Tailored from all wool Bedford cord in taupe, brown, navy, copen and black. Lined with yarn dyed satin. Sizes from 14 to 44. A suit that will sell at once at $17.50

AT $25.00

Suits that sell for much more in other stores as you'll readily say after inspection. The materials are wool poplins, cubist effects, Epange, wide welts, Diagonals, Bedford Cords, etc. Made up in styles that are simply stunning. at each $25.00

AT $22.50

Garments tailored from Bedford cords, serge, silk and wool copen and various other materials. All of the staple and novelty shades will be found in this assortment. Styles in protusion, everything that is absolutely new at $22.50

AT $18.75

An exceptionally moderate price for the beautiful styles we are showing. Included are such colors as brown, purple, blues, mahogany, taupe and black. You must see these suits to appreciate their style and values, all sizes at $18.75

Hundreds of New Coats Await Your Inspection

Coats this season are entirely different from anything worn in the past, the styles, materials and lengths have all changed, so to be strictly in style you must purchase a new coat. You will notice at once the great amount of fur that is used for collars and cuffs, making a decidedly pretty contrast. We don't believe we have ever shown such a choice assortment as this season and the prices without a doubt are even lower. Garments made from pile fabrics have the lead followed by cut and diagonal chinchilla, then there are countless styles made up from rich mixture cloths. Description cannot convey to you the beauty of these new coats, you simply must come in and see them. Choice assortments at $10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $17.50, $20.00 to $50.00

Complete Assortments of Dress Goods Are Now on Display
Every New Shade and Material is Here to Select From

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Connor.
A letter to the Advocate from Fort Williams, Ontario, Canada, tells of the success of Mr. James O'Connor who is well known in Newark. Mrs. O'Connor was formerly Miss Julia C. Moriarty, 205 South Fifth street, Newark. Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor's address is 1114 Victoria Avenue, Fort Williams, Ont. Mr. O'Connor owns a grocery store, but his success has come largely in real estate. There was a little real estate boom in Fort Williams last summer and Mr. O'Connor profited by it. It is very dull there this summer and Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor are waiting for another advance before disposing of their holdings when they expect to return to Newark to live.

THE PLYMOUTH CHURCH HOPES TO RAISE $15,000

Next Sunday morning, August 31, at 10:30 o'clock, an effort is to be made by the congregation of Plymouth Congregational church to procure pledges enough to provide for $15,000 on the debt hanging over the church.

A letter, prepared by a committee of the official board of the church, has been sent to the members, setting out the particulars of the debt and a form of pledge to be made. Following is a part of the letter:

By unanimous action of the official board of Plymouth Congregational church of Newark, O., Sunday, August 31, 1912, is set apart as a day for raising pledges to the amount of $15,000 for the purpose of paying our church debt. This was the situation on the first day of last January: we owed $21,959.25. June 16, 1912, paid on H. B. Assn. Mort. $300, balance, $21,659.25. This balance of $21,659.25 bears interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum. If we obtain pledges for $15,000, the balance will be $6,659.25. On this balance our church building society has promised to loan us $5000 at 2 percent per annum, and to donate $1000, total $6000, leaving an unprovided balance of $659.25 which the committee believes can be obtained without difficulty. The plan for solving this debt problem is this:

1. Obtain pledges for $15,000, payable on or before December 1, 1913.
2. Each pledge will draw interest at the rate of six percent per annum until paid, payable semi-annually, on December 1 and June 1. A passbook will be given each person desiring one so that pledges can be paid in payments out of your wages on pay day, thus making it easy for each one to pay his pledge.

Under the leadership of Pastor F. E. Holloway the membership of the church is hopeful of raising the pledges needed. It is said the financial condition of Plymouth church is in better shape than for three or four years past. The current expenses are promptly met weekly or monthly, old debts have been paid, the congregations Sunday morning and evening are increasing and the prayer meeting attendance ranges from 35 to 65.

The men of the church are enthusiastic supporters of the Federation of Church Brotherhoods and the church is represented by three delegates, one of whom, L. A. Bailey, is treasurer of the Federation.

Pastor Holloway has prepared a program of Bible and missionary studies for the fall months. These are called respectively, "Week End Bible Class" and "Week End Missionary Journeys." These studies will occupy each Thursday evening during September and each Friday evening during October, November and December. The Bible studies Mr. Holloway calls "An Airship Journey from Genesis to Revelation." Following is a list of subjects to be studied:

The Airship Itself—Sept. 4, "Its Designer and Design" September 11, "Its Method of Construction" Sept. 18, "How We Got It: a Miracle"

Views from the Airship—Sept. 25, (a) Creation, (b) Chaos Oct. 3, (a) Reformation, (b) Eden and the Garden

God's Creation of Man—Oct. 10, (a) Body, (b) Soul, (c) Spirit

God's Instructions to Man—Oct. 17, (a) Be ruler, (b) Be fruitful, (c) Be Faithful

God's Rejection by Man—Oct. 24, Lust for Place Oct. 31, Lust for Pleasure Nov. 7, Lust for Power

God's Judgment upon Man—Nov. 14, Loss of Fellowship Nov. 21, Loss of Inheritance Nov. 28, Loss of Unity

God's Redemption for Man—Dec. 5, Abel Dec. 12, Melchizedek Dec. 19, Israel

God's Fellowship with Man—Dec. 26, (a) Through Christ and the Church, (b) Through Christ and Israel

These Bible studies are to be undenominational, and it is expected they will be enjoyed by many who are not communicants at Plymouth church.

The house will be packed as it always is when Bud Fisher's brain folks come to town, therefore the manager of the Auditorium is not "kidding you" when he advises you to secure seats in advance and avoid disappointment at the box office. It'll be here Saturday, Sept. 6, matinee and night.

AUDITORIUM OPENS MONDAY WITH THE HAVOC.

Paul Gilmore's Associate Players in "The Havoc," H. S. Sheldon's powerful play are winning remarkable tributes this season. "The Havoc," ever was, is, and will undoubtedly be an everlasting source of sheer delight. The acting is art. And in nothing that has been seen in recent years is the art of it more compelling and delightful than in "The Havoc." The play grips and tugs. Almost every line has a punch. It gives the thrill and throb and the tremor. "The Havoc" opens the Auditorium season on Monday, Sept. 1, matinee and night. Seats are now on sale.

"THE DIVORCE QUESTION."

The intense heart gripping play which comes to the Auditorium on Thursday, Sept. 4, under the direction of the National Play Co., is a striking object lesson proving that divorce does not remedy domestic unhappiness—the author firmly contending the Catholic church is absolutely right in its stand on the divorce laws of the present day.

PROLONGING LIFE IN DIABETES

On Monday, May 6th, 1912, San Francisco dailies published an offer that is unique, as follows:

"To show that Codem containing opium which locks up secretions, commonly used in Diabetes is wrong and that Fulton's Diabetic Compound, which contains no opium or sedatives but promotes secretions, is right, we will say that if four physicians of good standing in this city will send us a Diabetic between fifty and seventy years of age, strong enough to call at our office, showing high specific gravity thirst and a large quantity of sugar, we will with this mild infusion to help the liver oxidize the sugars and starches, attempt to return him in sixty days with half of the sugar eliminated, with thirst and symptoms largely reduced and on the road to recovery. If we fail we will publish the fact; if we succeed the physicians to acknowledge it. We want a patient whom we can both trust. This offer is not in the nature of a contest, but to demonstrate that life can be prolonged or recoveries had in many cases of Diabetes now dying under codem."

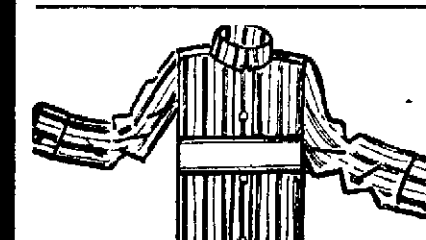

If you have Diabetes and are of middle age or over you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Diabetic Compound before giving up. It can be had at F. D. Hall, druggist. Ask for pamphlet or write to John J. Fulton Company, San Francisco.

Church Brotherhood to be Inactive Until After Primaries; Sam Small Addresses Meeting

The Brotherhood of the City of Newark will not take an active part in boosting the candidacy of any man for a city office in the coming primary. This was decided at the meeting of the Brotherhood in Taylor Hall at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night. Nearly three hundred men were present and appended the cardinal of card talk made by the famous Lower preacher, Sam Small.

Attorney Carl Norrell called the meeting to order. The first matter brought before the Brotherhood was the report of the "board of trustees" which had been asked to look into the matter of the coming primary election in the city and recommend some plan of action.

The board of trustees reported that it had had three meetings and discussed the matter thoroughly and was ready to recommend that "we take no part in the nominations but that we have another meeting at the First M. E. church next Wednesday evening to discuss the matter of elections." The time for the meeting was set at 8 o'clock.

N. C. Sherburne favored the plan of remaining inactive until the nominations were over. He said: "There may be a number of candidates we can support, if any one of them is nominated. We should not support one for it he will secure the nomination we should be lost. There will be at least two candidates to pick from."

When called to vote the recommendation of the trustees passed with the dissenting vote of a very few.

The chairman, Mr. Norrell, then introduced the speaker as "a lawyer, preacher, editor, lecturer, and one of the finest of American citizens." Rev. Mr. Small in his address proved to be an eloquent speaker. He is frank and open in his statements, tells a good story well, and strikes hard and fearlessly at vice in all forms.

Rev. Mr. Small related the life history of great nations of the ancient world—described their splendor, power, growth and the great achievements.

NEGROES VOTED FOR ROOSEVELT

So Republicans Fought Colored Man's Appointment.

A FACTOR IN POLITICS.

Free Sugar and Wool Look Certain. Hepburn Is "Father of the Canal." Page an "Insidious Lobbyist"—The Oregon to Be First Boat Through Panama Canal.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 20. (Special.)—Rather a curious story of the defeat of the negro for a federal appointment recently came to light in a discussion of political conditions in the senate. It was positively asserted that the defeat of the colored man was due to opposition on the part of stand pat Republicans, regulars, who were sore because the negro voters in large numbers went over to Roosevelt in the last campaign.

If it is true that these votes went to Roosevelt a still further curious political condition is developed. It was Roosevelt who denounced the machine control by negroes in the southern states, who proposed to organize a white Republican party in those states.

The one reason always given why the Republicans could not cut down southern representation in national conventions was because there would be a loss of negro votes in northern states. It is rather surprising, therefore, to hear that the colored voters went over to Roosevelt last year.

Still a Factor.

At all events, the negro seems to be considered an important factor in politics. "Without the support of the Republicans the opponents of the negro could not have prevented his confirmation," said a Democratic senator. "All the Democratic senators from states like Maryland, West Virginia, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska would have been compelled to support the nomination on account of the negro votes in those states. It was because the regular Republicans came to the support of the southern states that caused the withdrawal of the nomination."

Free Sugar and Wool Sure.

After the first test vote on sugar in the senate there was careful figuring as to what might have happened if all the republicans had voted and were paired and had Senator Newlands voted with the Republicans for a duty on sugar, as he is inclined to do. There would have been a majority of one for the sugar duty owing to the vacancy from Alabama.

But, even so, neither the house nor the president would accept the bill without free wool and free sugar, and in the final windup the slim majority by which a duty might be placed on these articles would be of no avail.

"Father of the Canal."

"Pete Hepburn is the father of the canal," remarked Minority Leader Mann, speaking of the big ditch. Mann did not go into particulars, but they are something like this: Hepburn fought through the house, with but one dissenting vote, a bill for a canal at Nicaragua. That bill came back from the senate, after a long, hard struggle, changed to a Panama canal bill. By a bare majority of three votes the change had been made. Hepburn moved to concur in the senate bill, which, according to many people, prevented the deadlock which those who had forced the Panama route hoped to obtain.

Page Confesses.

President Wilson charged that there was an "insidious lobby" at work against free sugar. Senator Page of Vermont "fessed up" when the paragraph relating to maple sugar was reached in the tariff bill. "I have been a very insidious lobbyist in behalf of maple sugar for five years," said the Vermont senator. Quite true, and he went so far as to send boxes of maple sugar cakes to senators and other friends about the capitol. Many people enjoyed a taste of Page's maple sugar.

Jim Mann on Her Deck.

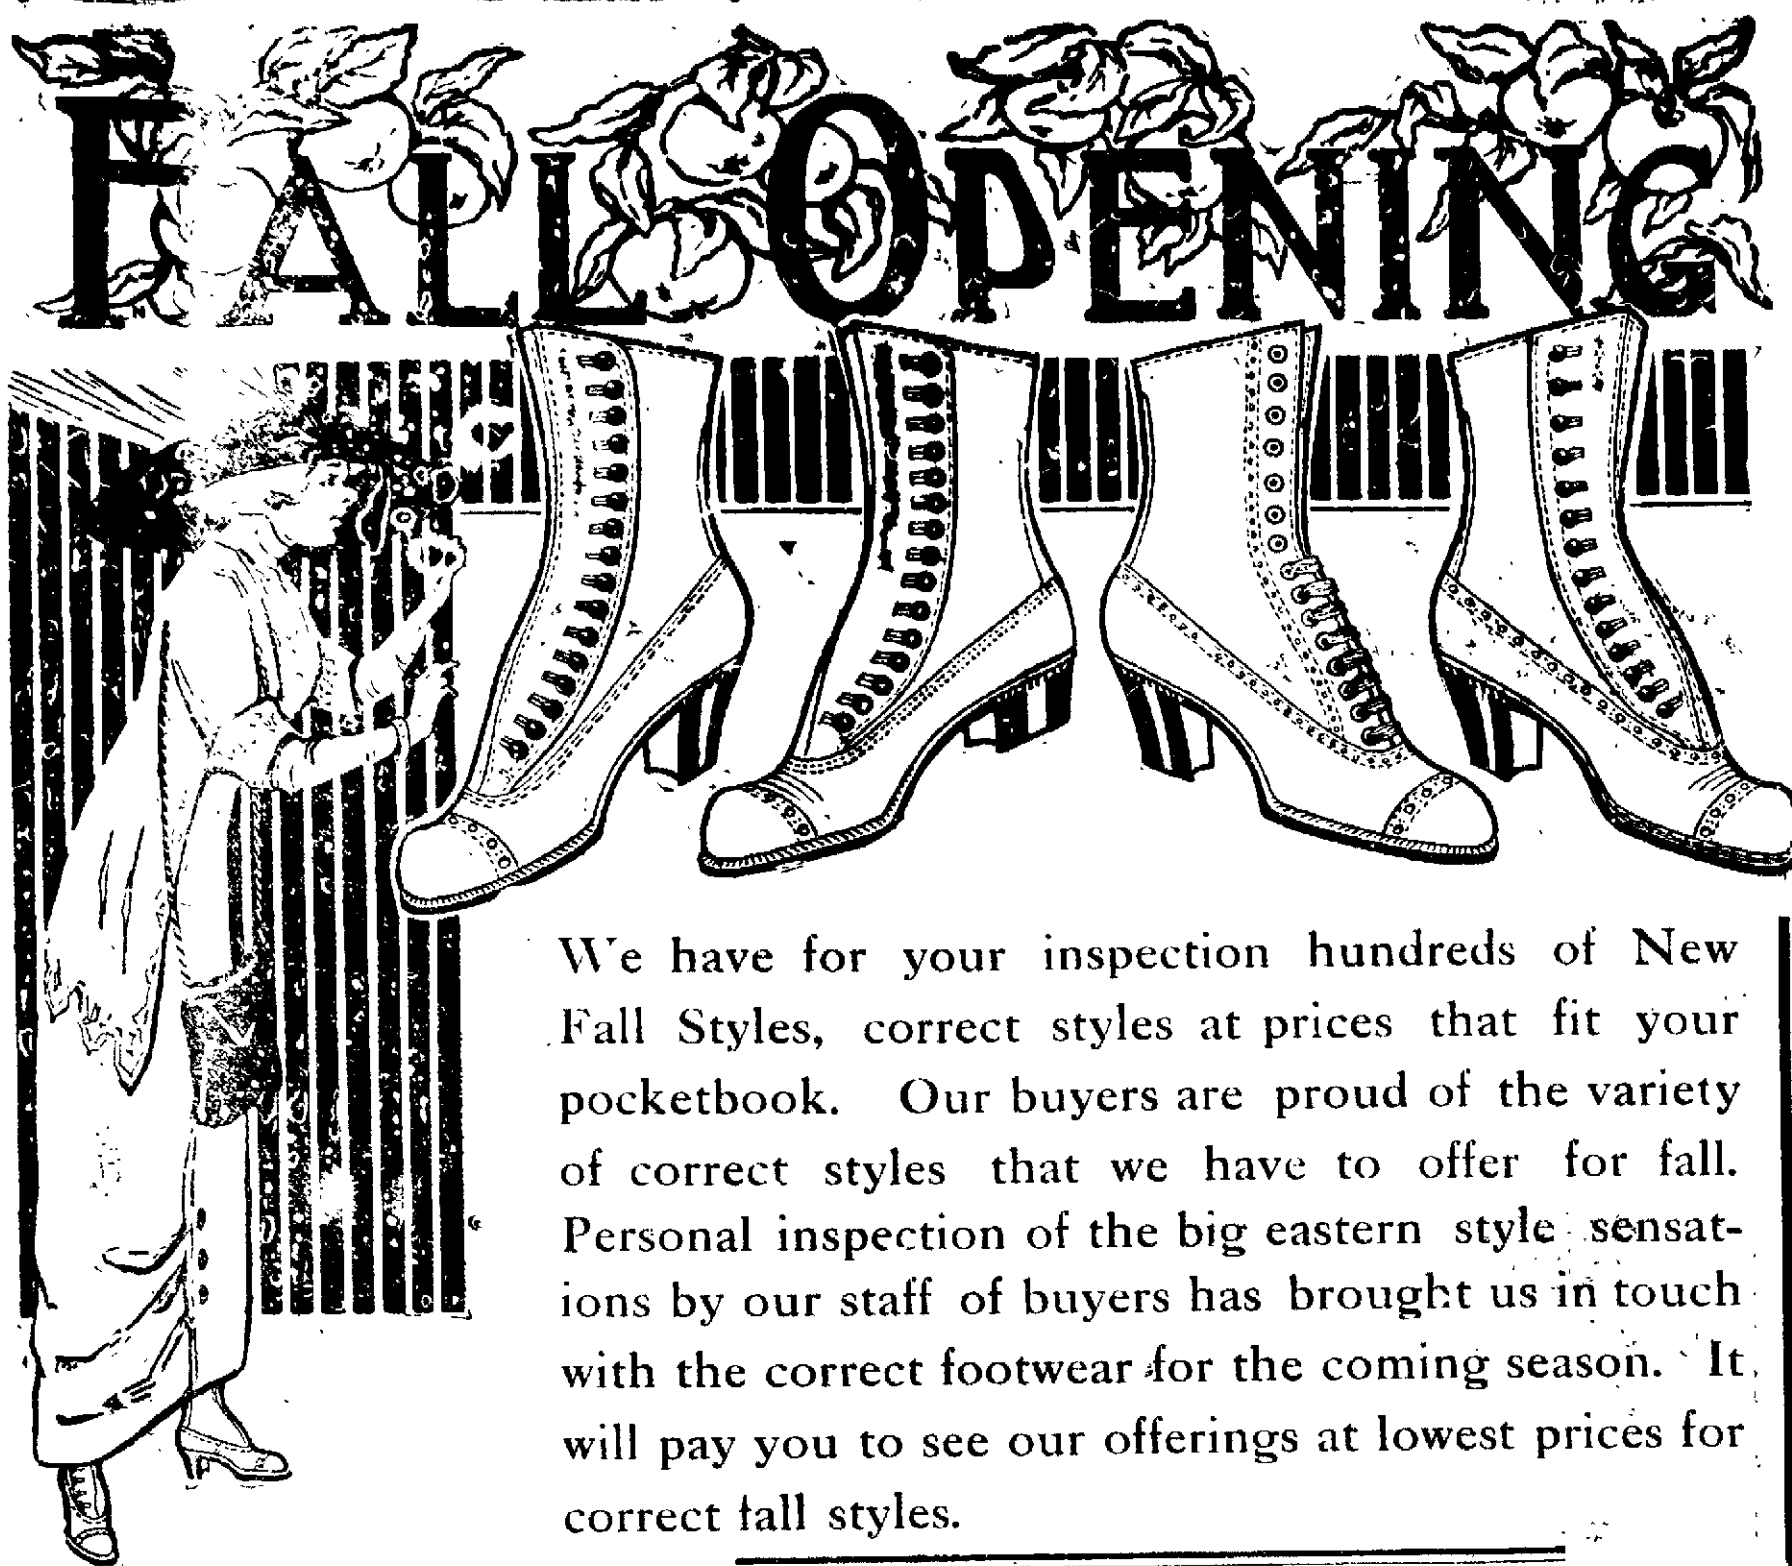

Secretary Daniels has determined to send the old Oregon through the canal as the first battleship, thus keeping up that sentimental tradition about the voyage of the Oregon around South America in order to take part in the Spanish war. Jim Mann, who has had so much to do with canal legislation, is to be upon her deck if time and the navy department will permit.

And, while it is all right sentimentally, the voyage of the Oregon was useless, unnecessary and a blot upon the good sense of those who were responsible for the trip. The Oregon was not needed on the Atlantic coast and might have been needed on the Pacific coast.

Where Courtesy Ceases.

The Republicans can make no arrangement for pairing Senator Burleigh of Maine, who is too ill to attend the sessions of the senate. The Democrats need all the votes they can get, and as they have lost one by death they are making no arrangements to pair a sick man on the other side. In a close fight like this they have on hand senatorial courtesy ceases. If Burleigh had been long enough in the senate to have arranged a permanent pair his vote would now be protected, for permanent pairs are never violated.

BECKMAN'S

Don't Be Confused—The Sample
West Side Square Twenty Years Young

NOTES FROM LICKING TOWNS

Johnstown: M. L. Emerson lost a valuable dapple gray mare valued at $200.

Johnstown: Mrs. William A. Ashbrook, William A. Jr., and Byron B. Ashbrook, Jr. left Sunday for a two weeks auto trip to Georgian Bay, Thousand Islands and Niagara Falls.

Johnstown: Albert Lewis had his family driving horse killed Sunday night at 9 o'clock as he was going home from church. The accident was the result of a race between Martin Green and another young man whose name has not been divulged. Green's shaft struck Lewis' horse squarely in the throat, penetrating it several inches or enough to cause it to bleed to death in a few minutes.

Pataskala: On Sunday, August 24th, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hagy of Etina celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Although the real anniversary was not until Monday, the 25th, Mr. and Mrs. Hagy concluded to commemorate the event on the 24th, as it was possible for all their children to be present only on that day.

Pataskala: Miss Hannah Baird, aged 70 years, one month and some days, died at Grant Hospital, Columbus last Thursday night between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock from hardening of the blood vessels. Miss Baird, who was the last member of the family of the late William Baird, spent the greater part of her life in Pataskala where she was born. The body was brought to the home of W. S. Hanna at Pataskala and the funeral held from the Presbyterian church Sunday at 2 p. m. Interment was made in the Pataskala cemetery.

Centerburg: Mrs. John Gearhart died August 22, aged 67 years. She leaves her husband, one son and a brother and sister. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. T. J. McCallister were held Sunday.

Centerburg: As the administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Rose M. Williams, Homer Brown, has filed an odd suit in the court against Edmund B. and E. J. Williams. The suit is brought to secure for the estate of the deceased $700 under an agreement executed by the defendant just shortly before Mrs. Williams' death.

Tiffin: Mrs. Albert Davidson and her youngest son, Leon, were coming into town from their country home last Thursday afternoon, and when almost to Main street their horse took fright at a traction engine on the road and ran away. Both occupants of the buggy were thrown out, but Mrs. Davidson was severely bruised and shocked.

Tiffin: John Kiser, drilling contractor, one of the best but now residing in Lancaster, was coming to Tiffin county in his big Cadillac machine Monday of last week, and near Buckeye Lake he struck a Ford machine carrying six passengers. Knocked it thirty feet into a ditch where it turned turtle and pinned its passengers down. Miss Nellie Leonard suffered two broken ribs, but the others were not seriously injured. Mr. Kiser took them to a doctor in Bluffton, and later to their home at Carroll.

SLEEPER HIT BY TRAIN.

Mt. Vernon, Aug. 20. Lewis Hunter, aged 20, was killed by a Pennsylvania passenger train east of Mt. Vernon yesterday. He had walked from Gambler and sat down on the ties to rest. It is supposed that he fell asleep. An examination showed that nearly every bone in his body was broken.

PULMOTOR SAVES LIFE OF MINER BELIEVED DEAD

(Associated Press Telegram)

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 20.—A remarkable case of the resuscitation of an apparently dead man by the use of the pulmotor is reported from St. Clair, Joseph Mango, a miner employed in a colliery of the Reading railway ran into a pocket of mine gas and when found by his companions he was apparently extinct. Although the case seemed hopeless, three members of the first aid corps rushed for the pulmotor with which all mines are provided and began the work of resuscitation. The body was first wrapped in seven blankets to retain any heat that might remain and the machine for producing artificial respiration was operated vigorously. After working the man shouted loudly into the ears of the rescuers to breathe and finally they were rejoiced to observe signs of life. Keeping up the work of pumping pure oxygen into the lungs of the man they had him breathing freely at the end of an hour and a half. He is at home still very ill but physicians say he will recover.

Dean George Hodges of Harvard Theological school says the world never was so badly better than it is now.

Deal Fairly With the Railroads

By SETH LOW, President of the National Civic Federation

DEAL fairly with the railroads. They cannot be indefinitely charged with additional expenses unless, when circumstances justify it, they are permitted also to increase their earnings.

THE RAILROADS CONSTANTLY NEED VAST AMOUNTS OF NEW CAPITAL. THIS CAPITAL CANNOT CONTINUE TO BE OBTAINED FROM PRIVATE SOURCES UNLESS INVESTORS HAVE THE ASSURANCE THAT IT WILL BE PERMITTED TO EARN A REASONABLE AND SAFE RETURN.

There are those, I know, who desire government ownership and operation, and those who do not may well stop to remember that the public ownership and operation of our railroads would be likely to mean a POORER SERVICE, RISING RATES, SLOWER DEVELOPMENT OF RAILROAD FACILITIES, FIXED WAGES FOR THE EMPLOYEES, added expense, either through higher rates or increased taxes, for their fellow citizens, the breakdown of our federal system and changes in our form of government so radical as to constitute a complete break between our past and our future.

Penelope On Divorce

PENELOPE, with a bit of dainty needlework in her hand, sat sewing and humming.

“You always are busy,” observed Venus, as she took a seat beside her. “Don't you ever get tired of doing fancy work and making lace and such stuff?”

“Oh, no,” replied Penelope, cheerily. “I put in a rather long apprenticeship at it, you know, when Ulysses was away, and I found out what fun it was.”

“Fun! How can you find fun in work?” exclaimed Venus, regarding Penelope curiously.

“Oh, it's awfully interesting to watch a thing grow under your fingers and see it become more and more beautiful. And when you are busy, time flies as fast as your fingers.” Penelope's tone was full of contentment.

Venus sighed. Time often hung heavy with her. “You always seem nappy,” she said at last, a bit enviously.

“Of course, why not? If you had gone through the anxious time I did watching for your husband to return, you couldn't help being happy, now that he is back and cured of his wander-thirst.”

“Don't you get tired of just one husband?” asked Venus. There was a hint of plaintiveness in her voice. Sometimes she almost wished she knew Penelope's secret of contentment. “But I guess you wouldn't. If you don't get tired of fancy work, I guess you wouldn't get tired of anything. Maybe you like monotony.”

“I certainly shouldn't care for your rapid-fire change of husbands. You don't much more than get used to one, before you are taking him back and getting him exchanged for another.”

“That's where the fun comes in,” explained Venus, “you don't have time to get bored.”

“Oh, no,” disagreed Penelope. “Getting used to a man is the hardest part of the programme. After you get him quieted down and accustomed to double harness, you can trot along peacefully and enjoy the scenery. But this business of continually changing, simply keeps you in turmoil. With a new one, you never know when he is going to kick over the traces or run away, or balk.”

“But that gives the thrills.”

“There are thrills and thrills,” argued Penelope. “You get a thrill when you have a tooth pulled. But I don't think it's particularly enjoyable. I prefer the thrill that comes, when a well-broken husband presents you with a diamond necklace, or suggests a trip to Europe, or something of that sort.”

“Can you get them as well broken as that?” asked Venus.

“Oh, yes, if you just begin right. Ulysses is as proud of my devotion to him, and the way I turned down the other fellows during his absence, as if he had won a world's series. There isn't anything he wouldn't do for me.”

“Some men get tired of wives who are too devoted.”

“That depends,” replied Penelope, sagely. “You want to spice your devotion with the fact that all the other men are crazy after you, but that your husband is so superior to the whole push, that none of them is worth a thought. He simply swells up at that, thinks he is the whole works, as far as married men are concerned, and you can work him for anything you want. A proposition like that is better than changing husbands every few years, let me tell you.”

“Maybe,” mused Venus, reflectively. Privately she was considering fourth. But she thought perhaps it might be well to think over Penelope's advice. Then, too, there had been some notoriety lately over several marriages of divorcees in her set. It was growing difficult to get a man later to perform. It would be extremely unwise to let go of a sure thing before she had hold of another. She concluded she'd think over Penelope's suggestion rather seriously, and as she rose to go, she said:

“Thank you, Pen, dear. Perhaps I'll put your suggestion into practice.”

Penelope watched her as she walked away. “I guess there's no much danger of that,” she thought. “She's too accustomed to thinking she's the whole works herself. When a woman gets to believing all that men tell her, she's not going to make her husband think he's the only man on earth.”

COURT NEWS

Common Pleas Notes.
On September 3rd Judge Fulton will call the docket for the assignment of cases for the September term of court which begins on September 8th.

In the case of the State of Ohio vs. Edward Brown, previously indicted for assault and battery upon James F. Lindester, the defendant appeared in court Friday morning and entered a plea of guilty to the charge. The court assessed a fine of ten dollars and costs, giving the defendant until Saturday to pay the amount.

In the case of Harris vs. Harris, a proceeding for divorce, heretofore heard upon the testimony and evidence, the defendant submitted a motion to dismiss the case because the plaintiff was a minor and the case not being brought by her next friend. The court sustained the defendant's motion.

In the case of William A. Fike vs. The Heisey Glass Co., a suit for an accounting, the court overruled defendant's motion to separately state and number and to require plaintiff to make his petition more definite and certain leave to plead.

Clarence Stricklin vs. The Holophane company, a suit to recover damages for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained while plaintiff was in the employ of defendant, heretofore tried, resulting in a verdict for defendant, was argued and submitted to the court upon a motion for a new trial.

ESCAPED LEPER REACHES ITALY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Port Townsend, Wash., Aug. 29.—Dominic Pittori, a leper who escaped from the Diamond Point quarantine station several weeks ago, reached Italy safely in spite of warnings sent to police and health authorities all over the United States and Canada. News of Pittori's arrival in Italy was received here on a postcard mailed from Naples and dated Aug. 13. The postcard, which was signed by Pittori, was addressed to John Early, a Spanish-American war veteran. When Pittori escaped he had only $6 in his pockets, but he made his way to New York with the assistance of an Italian society to which he belonged and from there he took passage to Europe.

NEWARK WINS GOLF GAME FROM COLUMBUS TEAM

The Licking Country Club Golf team paid back an old grudge when they played rings around the Columbus experts at the club links here Thursday. The Columbus boys handed the locals the small end of a close score early in the season and Captain Manning has been looking forward to this opportunity of retrieving the laurels. Several of the Country Club men played unusually well and the final score looked a little one-sided—28 to 7. The score follows:

DEATH MYSTERY AT CINCINNATI

Head of Lumber Concern Registers in Hotel Under Assumed Name and Drinks Paregoric.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Cincinnati, Aug. 28.—Much mystery surrounds the death of Thomas J. Moffett, president of a large local lumber company, director of the Fifth-Third National bank and former president of the Business Men's Club. Moffett was found dead in bed in a downtown hotel where he had registered late yesterday under an assumed name.

Moffett required the clerk to give him a quiet room as he was tired and wanted a long sleep. He registered under the name of "J. Moore" and gave his residence as Covington, Ky. Before retiring he drank two ounces of paregoric. The body was found by a hall girl late tonight.

Coroner Fortmeyer is investigating and declares a post-mortem will be necessary to ascertain the cause of his death.

A promising return is almost as hard to catch up with as our good intentions.

GOES CRAZY AT OPERATION.

Surgeon Suddenly Loses Mind and Patient Is Killed.

Cincinnati, O.—A distressing story was told in probate court by the wife of Dr. William R. Dabney, a Marietta physician, before he was committed to Longview hospital upon the application of his wife.

Mrs. Dabney told the court physician that the first signs of mental trouble were exhibited by her husband while he was performing a surgical operation in a Marietta hospital. He slashed right and left with his operating knife, and employees of the hospital had to take him in charge. The patient, she said, was the unfortunate victim of his sudden madness and was killed.

The wife said that she took her husband to Canada, hoping that rest would restore his reason. But he did not get much better and was brought to Cincinnati a short time ago.

BRAVEST OF CHICAGO'S FORCE

Patrolman McDermott Wins Harrison and Tree Medal.

Chicago.—Patrolman James M. McDermott was officially declared the bravest of the force when the civil service commission awarded him the Harrison and Tree medal for 1912. This is the highest honor that can be given to a policeman by the city.

McDermott arrested a murderer who had crawled beneath a house and threatened to shoot any one who came after him. The policeman pried off some boards at the bottom of the building and squeezed his way in the darkness to where the criminal lay. As he advanced, the man twice pulled the trigger of his revolver, but the cartridges failed to explode. The mechanism of the weapon had become clogged by dirt. The commission decided that this was the bravest deed of the year.

PONIES TRAINED TO EAT MATES' FLESH

Dire Hardships Experienced in Crossing Greenland.

Copenhagen.—The story told by Captain Koch, a Danish explorer, of the crossing of Greenland in company with three hardy companions shows that the dangers and hardships to be encountered on the great inland ice field have not decreased since Peary and Nansen journeyed over a part of the same wastes.

The Danish leader and his three companions, Dr. Wagener, a German; Larsen, a sailor, and Sigurdson, a native of Iceland, were reduced during their journey to eating a pet dog, the only animal left.

After landing on July 24, 1912, the first mishap encountered was the loss of some ponies. Soon after that their motorboat disappeared through the thin ice, and the explorers had to wait until near the end of September before the ice was thick enough to bear their sledges and horses. When they were ready to start Dr. Wagener fell and broke a rib.

The expedition was ten miles east of Queen Louise Land Oct. 13 and went into winter quarters.

Because fodder was short all the ponies were killed except five, which were trained to eat the flesh of their brothers.

During a sledging trip Captain Koch fell forty feet into a crevasse, breaking his right leg. He was helpless in the hut throughout the winter in a temperature generally 50 degrees below zero.

On April 20, this year, the four men broke camp and with five sledges, each drawn by a pony, started on their 750 mile march to the west coast. For forty days blizzards raged. The ponies became snow blind and so exhausted that three were killed.

Then, with the night temperature 30 below zero, the sun's rays burned the skin from the men's faces until they looked like raw beef.

On July 15 they tried to push on to the coast, which was now visible, but they were so exhausted from hunger, cold and wet they could scarcely move.

The only chance for life was to kill the pet dog, which had tramped with them about 800 miles. This was done, and the flesh was cooked and eaten.

BUILDS 15 OCEAN STEAMSHIPS

Royal Mail Company to Spend $30,000,000 For New Vessels.

Tacoma, Wash.—The Royal Mail Steam Packet company is building seven 15,000-ton freight and passenger steamships, costing $1,500,000 each for service between Europe and Puget sound via the orient.

This announcement was recently made by D. J. Martyn Nash, American representative of the company, with headquarters at New York.

The first vessel will leave London for Tacoma Nov. 22.

After the Panama canal is opened the steamships will return to Europe via Panama and New York.

For the West Indies and South America service Mr. Nash says the company is building eight triple screw steamships, costing nearly $20,000,000.

Joker Ships Twenty-four Live Snakes.

Othello, Wash.—One of the strangest shipments ever sent from here consisted of a box containing two dozen snakes, billed to Mitchell, S. D. The snakes are all small and harmless. The shipment is intended as a joke upon the consignee.

It's Easy To Darken Gray Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Harmless But Effective—
Mixed With Sulphur
Makes Hair Soft and Luxuriant.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur, for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is coming in vogue again, says a well-known downtown druggist. It was our grandmother's treatment and hundreds of women and men too, are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is the most popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply dampen a soft brush or sponge with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight, and by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application it is restored to its natural color.

What delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair they say it produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides prevents dandruff; itching scalp and falling hair. Here, you gray-haired folks, get busy, look years younger.

MORE BULL MOOSERS WILL BE APPOINTED

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Aug. 29.—More Progressives will be appointed as members of the county liquor license boards if Walter Brown of Toledo, leader of the new party's forces in the state can so prevail on Governor Cox. Mr. Brown held a conference with the Governor early today in the hall of several men, Mr. Brown wants appointed.

There are about a dozen more places on license boards that are considered of first importance by Mr. Brown and he hopes to have a number of Progressives appointed on these places. Although he would make no formal statement today, Mr. Brown indicated that he is pleased with the recognition accorded the new party by the Democratic administration.

STEAMER WITH CARGO OF OIL MAKES BIG BLAZE

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, Aug. 29.—The steamer Burgermeister Hackman with 600,000 gallons of crude oil and benzine in her hold, was still a flaming torch in the Buttermilk channel this morning, fourteen hours after her cargo had been fired by a spark created by the friction when two tin cans struck violently last night.

Nine thousand gallons of benzine had not been reached by the flames and fire fighters were hopeful that she would sink before this should explode.

WOMAN FINDS MAN FATALLY HURT BY TRAIN

Giuseppe Bonfiglio was found at 9:20 o'clock Thursday night on the railroad track at First and Walnut streets dying as the result of an accident, the details of which are only surmised. He died at the Sanitarium a few minutes later. He made his home on South German street.

At 9:20 Thursday night two trains passed at the crossing at First and Walnut, going in opposite directions. Street lights had gone out a few minutes before. A moment later the dying man was found by Miss Ella Bingham who called for help, and he was taken to the Sanitarium in Bazler & Bradley's ambulance. His skull was crushed and both arms broken.

Miss Bingham had been visiting with a neighbor and arrived at the crossing on her way home a few minutes after the two trains passed. She saw the body lying between the tracks and thought the man was drunk. As she started on she heard him groan. She then called for help.

Coroner Wiyaher was called after the body was taken to the morgue and no one there was able to identify him. A letter was found in his pocket addressed to Giuseppe Bonfiglio, No. 27 S. German street. This identification was later confirmed.

COPPER SUSTAINS FRACTURE OF LEG FOR SECOND TIME

A fistie encounter resulting from an argument Thursday evening caused Joseph Copper, who was seriously injured in an auto accident several weeks ago, to break his leg for the second time.

When an auto went in the ditch about nine o'clock, Copper was one of the most seriously injured. He received a compound fracture of the leg and it was feared for a time that amputation would be necessary. He has been on crutches ever since and the leg was crushed for the last time on Wednesday, Thursday evening, in the fracas, following the argument.

Copper in endeavoring to secure a missile to hurl at his assailant, slipped and fell breaking the injured leg again.

He was taken to Dr. P. H. Connor's office where the injured member was again put in a cast. Owing to the former accident, the injury is a very serious one.

COL STOCKTON DEAD.

(Associated Press Telegram) Philadelphia, Aug. 29.—Colonel Wm S. Stockton, 73, brother of the late Frank R. Stockton, the author, was found dead in his apartment here today. Death is supposed to have been caused by apoplexy. During the Civil war, Col. Stockton commanded the 71st regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers.

STALLINGS WIFE DEAD.

(Associated Press Telegram) Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Mrs. George T. Stallings, wife of the manager of the Boston National baseball team, died at a local hospital here today after a long illness.

ROLAND LODGE WINS BALL GAME IN SEVEN INNINGS

Scorekeepers at the K. of P. ball game in Wehrle park Thursday afternoon followed the doings through the seventh inning when the score mounted to something like 28 to 14, after which they quit tallying. To allay any doubts it was announced that Roland Lodge, 305, had the winning team, but nobody ventured to predict what might have happened had the other two innings been played. Newark lodge, 13, made an earnest effort. Dr. Earl Russell was captain of the winning team, and Court Clerk B. O. Horton confessed he was captain of the defeated squad, but declined to accept more than his share of responsibility for the defeat.

More than 300 Knight of Pythias with their families witnessed the ball game and other events, and partook of a fine supper served by the ladies in the grandstand seats.

Child Rolls Down Eight Foot Terrace

Clarence Miller, aged 3 years, was seriously injured when he fell from the porch at his home in Elmwood avenue and rolled down a terrace about 8 feet high.

The child is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller, 247 Elmwood avenue and Thursday evening was playing on the front porch. He was on the balustrade, when he lost his balance, rolling down the embankment to the sidewalk below.

In alighting he struck his head and caused a confused wound above the eye. Dr. C. F. Legge was called and the gash required several stitches to close it.

Miss Mary Hildreth of Butternut Farm, Plymouth, Mass., has adopted 14 babies.

MORE FRAUDS ARE DISCOVERED IN PETITIONS

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Aug. 29.—That petition frauds were as bad in Toledo as in Cincinnati was indicated by the testis, given before Secretary of State, today by Harry Wagner, auditor for the State Liability Board of Awards, who is a resident of Toledo.

He investigated petitions for referendums on the Warnes and Kilpatrick laws and found in scores of instances that according to the addresses given the signers resided in such places as the new postoffice, on the county fair grounds, on the Cherry street bridge and on many vacant lots.

On many petitions the same names were found signed in three different places. A cheap lodging house at 123 Summit street, was given as the place of abode of 63 signers. On the dates that the petitions were alleged to have been signed, the register of this place contained 23 names.

Wagner found upon investigation, he said, that the addresses given by a number of signers turned out to be St. Vincent's hospital and the Scott Manual Training school.

The name of F. Wilson appears on several petitions. Wagner found that Wilson has been dead since Jan. 10. He found that scores of names were either faked or forged. Most of the petitions under consideration today were those of the Warnes and Kilpatrick laws.

CLEMENTS QUILTS AS POLICE CHIEF

(Associated Press Telegram) St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 29.—John S. Clements today resigned as chief of police of St. Louis, effective September 1. His action was due to ill health. On January 8, the chief was attacked by an insane colored man who dealt him a blow on the head with a heavy chair and bit off one of the officer's fingers. Since then the chief's physical condition has not been good.

Three weeks ago, while the chief was delivering a prisoner to the station workhouse, the man jumped from a moving train and escaped. The chief was not heard from for two weeks thereafter, when he suddenly appeared at police headquarters in Dayton. Relatives went to that city and brought him home. He claimed his mind was a blank during the entire time he had been missing. He is still confined to his home and has not been able to work since returning to the city.

FARMER FOUND DEAD.

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Aug. 29.—John Iden Corbin, 55, well to do retired farmer, who lived on the Post Road, a mile west of Dublin, was found dead near his home early today by his wife with a load of shot in his breast.

The shotgun which had evidently been accidentally discharged when Corbin tried to get over a wire fence, was still hanging on the fence.
